SOLD FOR A GALLON OF MEAL.

Oil-cloth Coat in Which Jackson Received His Mortal Wound.

THE STORY OF ITS LOSS AND RECOVERY.

It Fell Into the Hands of Mr. Joseph Bryan and Was Sent to General Lec... The Correspondence Which Followed.

One of the most interesting relies of Stonewall Jackson was brought to light in the manner as narrated yesterday by Mr. Joseph Bryan, as follows:

| was sent to my home in Fluvanna counto in November, 1864 (upon a wounded furlough), and took the opportunity to visit my sister, who was then refugeeing in Goochland

Just across James river, in Powhatan county, near Belmead, my father had rented a farm in conjunction with Major J. Horace Lacy, who owned a large part of the battle-Chancellorsville, this place, as one of greater security. they had both sent a number of their servants they had both self a himoer of their servants from their places in Spotsylvania and Gloucester counties, which had been overrun by the creany. I went to this place to see my old colored friends and there not a Mr. Jones, the overseer, who had come with Major was in charge of this place.

It was a rainy day, and some complaint being made of the disagreeable weather, dones remarked that he had an oil-cloth overcoat which had kept him dry in a pouring rain all instantly protested against such a treasure being left in the possession of a man who was at home, and insisted that he should sell it to me for use in the field. This he agreed to do, and the price was fixed at $125, for which I gave him an order on my father. THE COAT.

The coat being produced was found to be a large calcooth coat, the left sleeve of which had been splittup on the inside and also across had been splittup on the inside and also across the breast, and afterward sewed up, while just below the shoulder two bullet holes had been justched up, and at the end of the sieeve the course of another bullet had been repaired by turning down an additional hem, as soon as I saw the coat I was struck by the well-known fact that Stonewall Jackson had been wounded in exactly that way—two bullets in the left arm—and I remarked upon this coincidence.

Jones stated that he would not be surprised if it was General Jackson's coat, because the man who had brought it to him a day or two after the battle of Chancellorsville had stated that he had gotten it from where theneral Jackson was wounded and brought it away to sell, asking for it a peck of meal.

This charge Jones said he considered unprescenable and had refused.

This charge Jones said he considered uncoat was badly mutilated and very blood but that he had inally agreed to take it for with a large amount of other plumber, blankers knapsacks, and such things as he had gathered from the battle field. There it lay until the fol lowing fall, when, having to make a trip to crange Courtbouse in a spell of threatening weather. Mrs. Jones remembered this cost and repaired it so as to give her husband protection and satisfaction in a continuous and

I then opened the cost and examined it Then opened the cost and examined it more carefully, and found in the inside of the back, in Jackson's own unmistakable handwriting, the name, "T. J. Jackson," I carried the cost home, but of course never pretended to use it. The only occasion there it was used by any one was Hollins when he was driven from y Sheridan's cavalry in coat remained at Carys rook until in December, 1867, when my exington, Va., morrating the circumstance is having gotten possession of it, and re-ding him to make a proper disposition of recons a role. To this General Lee re-tal have his original letter) as follows:

LEXINGTON, VA., 13th December, 1867.

My Dear Sir.—I have rec'd the overcoat with by General T. J. Jackson at the time that he was wounded at the Wilderness. I am very much obliged to you for sending me so interesting a reit of one whose memory is so dear to me. Before making any disposition of it I think it proper to consult Mrs.
Jackson, whose wishes on the subject are entitled to consideration.

Mrs. Lee joins me in kindest regards to yourself and family, and I am Very Respt'y,
Your Ob't Serv't,
R. Erran, Fre.

R. Bryan, Esq.

LEXINGTON, Va., 18th January, 1858.

My Dear Sir. - I informed you in December last that before making any disposition of the overcoat of General T. J. Jackson I had written to Mrs. Jackson to ascertain her wishes on the mibiest. In a letter ree'd from her this morning she says: "Such a relic of my precious mutyred husband would be extremely painful tome, and yet I cannot reconcile myself to think of its being in any other possession than i have therefore forwarded it to her with a copy of your letter, that she may see how it was recovered and to whom she is indebted for it.

Hoping that this disposition of a relic familiar to my eyes and painfully interesting to the hearts of all our people may receive your approbation. I am, with great respect,

Very truly yours.

R. E. Lee.

Mr. J. R. Bryan.

It has been stated that this coat was obtained by some devoted Scotch admirers of General Jackson, and has been seen by American travelers with appropriate descriptive inscriptions in a museum in Glasgow, Scotland. Whether this latter part is correct or not I am unable to say

THE TOBACCO NOTES.

They Are Not Negotiable Unless Issued in the Form Required.

The tobacco note decision by Judge Barton on the Chancery Court last Tuesday is one of great importance, sa it is believed that very few of the notes heretofore issued by the hicknood warehouses and used with the banks as collateral were issued in conformity with the statute, and in order to make them legal a new form will have to be adopted The case in which the question.

The case in which the decision was made was that of latteson, trustee, etc., for fompians & Co., against Isbell & Co. and Judge factor decided that the hypothecation by Tomkins & Co., the factors of Isbell & Co., of certain induces pages is used for tolerance. of certain "tobacco notes" issued for tobacco shipped by the latter to the former, with a back as collateral for the debt of Tompkins e Co., said 'tobacco notes' not having the wind 'negotiable' on them as required by the state' did not divest the title of Isbell a Co. to the tobacco represented by said notes, and that the bank was liable to Isbell a Co. for the value of said tobacco, subject only to such that as Tompkins & Co, had thereon by vir-taged any factor's lien they might have.

Mr. Conway R. Sands represented Tompkins & Ca. and their trustee: Judge George L. Christian the principals. Drobel & Son, and Cartain Charles U. Williams the First Na-

Rev. Mr. Atwill.

Rev. W. Atwill, the popular pastor of Claystreet Methodist church of this city, is taking a much needed rest at Lynchburg as the much needed rest at Lynchburg as the much needed from the district, and is reported much improved in health by his trip. Mr. Atwill, by special request, filled the pulpit of Centenary church of that city last Sunday in the evening, and that of the Court-street church in the evening on both occasions preaching in the evening on both occasions preaching sermons of marked ability. Mr. Atwill is one of the most popular and prominent minusers in the Methodist Church of Virginia.

Y. M. C. A. Visitor.

Mr. Arthur Dadman, third assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of New York, is visit-ing the city. He was a guest of the Virginia Y. M. C. A. encampment at Hampton and has just returned from Petersburg, where he officiated as heat man at the marriage of his brother, Mr. E. T. Dadman, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of this State, on Tuesday Personal and General.

Mr. W. C. McDowell, of Ford's Hotel, and family, are at Virginia Beach. T. B. Galer, cashier of the Hygeis Hotel, was at Ford's yesterday. Mr. Addison T. Coates is lying very ill at his residence, 901 east Clay.

Mr. Isaac Davenport, Jr., has returned from Basic City after a pleasant visit. Major Fontaine DeWitt will leave in a few days for a tour of the mountains of Virginia.

Mrs. C. L. Ament and child were at Ford's yesterday, en route to Glade Springs, Va. Miss Annie McConnal, of north First street, is on a visit to Lexington and Natural Bridge. Mr. F. C. Christian leaves next Tuesday night for Hartford, Conn., on a business

Dr. R. A. Wise, of Williamsburg, and Col. William R. Aylett, of King William, were among the visitors in the city yesterday.

Miss Gertrude Blackwell secompanied Pr Smith, of Randolph-Macon College, and Mrs. Smith on their European trip.

Captain R. McC. Jones, of the Richmond and Danville railroad, is out after a very serious indisposition.

The Baptist ministers' conference will not be held again until the third Monday in Sep-

There will be no August term of the Hustings Court. After the July term the court stands adjourned until Monday, September 21st. Mr. P. P. Wisman, of the Bergner & Engel Brewing Company of Philadelphia, is in Rich-

The Rev. Joseph Hall, of Ashland, Va., conducted services last evening at the Grace-street Prosbyterian church.

An electric car collided with horse-car No. 9 near Ninth and Main streets yesterday morning. The latter was slightly injured. The ladies of Grove-avenue Baptist church announce a festival and musical entertain-ment to-night and Friday night.

Mrs. Willis and Miss Young, of "Rose-neath," were registered at the Exchange yes-

Mrs. Katie Garrity, of Baltimore, is spending a few days in the city as a guest of Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Harwood and Miss Mary O. Harwood returned Tuesday night from Old Point. Mr. R. O. Doswell, of Taylorsville, is visit-ing his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. L. Leadbetter, of No. 421 south Pine street.

will leave to day for Otterburn Lithia Springs, where they will spend the remainder of the Mrs. N. P. Burks and son and Misses Nan-

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Culpeper and family

nie B. Sale and Katie Thurman were registered at Ford's yesterday. Wade Hampton Merchant, assistant editor of the Fredericksburg Star, is in the city for a

Mr. Fred S. Myers left Tuesday night on a flying visit to his family, at Atlantic City, N. J.

Mr. T. M. Emmerson, general traffic manager of the Atlantic Coast Line, is in the city, attending the regular monthly meeting of the traffic managers of that line.

Mr. A. Von Rosenegk will be succeeded in Richmond as the agent of the Bergner & En-gel Company by Mr. Charles E. Loeitner, who already in the city. Mrs. Sarah Birchett, of Park Place, leaves a few days to visit relatives in Petersburg, Prince George and Surry. Miss Kate Morrisey has just returned from he White Sulphur and Rockbridge Alum

Colonel Thomas Seddon, president of the Sloss Iron and Steel Company, left the city yesterday for his home in Birmingham, Ala. Mrs. C. F. Burgess and Miss Luia Butler of Tuesday for Bridgeport, Conn., via New lork. Mr. J. E. Fitzwilson will join them in

Among the Richmonders at the Hotel Terminal, West Foint, are the families of Messrs, J. W. Sinton, J. R. Werth, W. J. Westwood and S. G. Wallace and Miss Irene Bodeker and friends.

Mr. Minnigerode, son of Dr. Minnigerode, formerly rector of St. Paul's, and family, of Philadelphia, are in the city for a few days, and are stopping at Mrs. Dr. Cabell's, 103 north Rev. Hartley Carmichael, rector of St. Pani's, is expected to seturn to the city in August and be the guest of James Alfred Jones until the return of Mrs. Carmichael.

Miss Helen Randolph Wilson will leave Saturday for Kanawha Falls, W. Va., where she will spend the summer with Mrs. W. B.

Mr. J. G. Fitzgerald, superintendent of the mailing department of the Richmond postof-line, was taken quite sick at the office yester-lay and sent to his home.

Misses Lizzie and Neilie Carmichael, who have been visiting Laburnum, left yesterday or their homes, in Fredericksburg.

Mr. M. A. Winter, general manager of the Southern Investment Company, will leave to-night for Hartford, Conn. Mr. Frank McGuire left last evening for Harrisonburg where he will file a bill in answer to the bill against the stockholders of the Harrisonburg Land Company which was filed by the promoters. The many friends of Mr. J. M. Macon, the deputy sheriff, will regret to learn that he is very ill, having undergone a delicate and painful operation yesterday morning. Dr. Lewis Wheat, who performed the operation, thinks that Mr. Macon's condition, though serious, is not dangerous. Mr. W. P. Lawton, clerk of the Hustings ourt, has been confined to his home for th past two or three days by a slight indis-position. During his absence the duties of the office are being efficiently performed by his deputy, Mr. Walter Christian.

Mrs. Thomas W. Doswell and her three daughters left yesterday afternoon for Cobb's Island, where they will remain about a week. The Alerts and Quicksteps, the two amateur clubs who were to play a game of base-ball at Island Park vesterday afternoon, did not turn up, and there was no game. A well-known citizen of Richmond recently read an advertisement in a Northern paper—

"Positive cure for stammering. By mail $1." He sent $1 and received the receipt promptly, and neatly printed, as follows: "Keep your mouth shut."

Mrs. Werth, mother of James R. Werth, general manager of the Richmond, Frede-ricksburg and Potomac road, is still very ill, and but little improvement is perceptible in

The Howitzers, in fatigue uniform, will unite with the "at home" contingent of the Blues in walcoming that company and Lee Camp Veterans back from Lexington this

Rev. Dr. George W. Carter is filling until the next meeting of the Conference the pulpit of the Contes-street Methodist church, Lynchburg, made vacant by the death of Dr. John E. Edwards, Mrs. B. A. Clements, Mrs. C. Ettenger, rs. A. F. Craig, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. H. Wat-Mrs. A. F. Craig, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. H. Wat-kins, Misses Louise Thompson, Cornelia and Louise Burks, and Messrs. W. Ralph Cle-ments, A. B. Van Buren, A. F. Craig, W. T. Shepherd and O. F. Grady leave to-day for Old Point.

Capitol Notes.

Mr. Leonard Cox, editor of the Charlotte Gazette, was a caller at the Capitol yesterday. Governor McKinney yesterday issued a requisition upon the Governor of North Carolina for Charles Watkins, who is now in jail in that State. No indictment has been found, and the application is based upon the verdict of the coroner's jury, which charged him with the murder of his wife on April 6th, near Salem, in Roanoke county.

Harry A. Webber is named as agent to bring this culprit back to stand trial.

D. F. Stultz, deputy sheriff of Henry county, arrived yesterday with Joseph Gross, who was convicted of stealing from the person and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.
W. D. Haynes, doorkeeper of the State Senate, was at the Capitol yesterday.

Captain Stratton to Marry. Captain Tom Stratton, conductor on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac rail-

Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad, will, as rumored for the past few days, be married to-day. The bride-elect is Miss, Mary P. Mills and the place is Washington.
Captain Stratton and his fiancee leave this morning on the 8:40 train for the national capital. The bride-elect is a popular and attractive young lady, and has a host of friends.
Everybody knows popular Captain Stratton
—all the traveling public—and he possesses friends in the city by the score.

EDWARD JONES IS GUILTY.

The Jury Said He Committed Murder In the Second Degree.

13 YEARS IN THE PENITENTIARY.

Full Story of the Sunday Evening Crime of Last June-The Testimony Was Complete and Proved His Guilt.

In the Hustings Court yesterday Edward Jones was on trial for his life.

The story of the crime is still vividly remembered. Every one will recall that Sunday-evening homicide which startled the inhabitants of Lumpkin's Bottom, and which made Edward Jones a felon and a prisoner.

On the 14th of June-over a month ago-Jones became involved in, or rather sought, a quarrel with Lizzie Holmes, a negro girl, and after striking her with his clenched hand, hurled a lighted lamp at her. The lamp exploded, and the burning oil covered the girl, injuring her so terribly that she only lived twenty-four hours.

Jones endeavored to escape the penalty of his crime by speedy flight, but there had been a witness to the killing, and the slayer was marked and easily captured by the police.

He was arranged before the Police Court, later indicted for murder in the first degree. later indicted for murder in the first degree, and on yesterday was placed before the bar of the Husting Court to be tried by a jury.

THE TRIAL.

The trial began about 12 o'clock.
Jones was defended by the well-known criminal attorney, Samuel M. Page.
The prisoner is a rather good-looking mulatto, about twenty-nine or thirty years of age, and has a face that is rather prepossessing than otherwise. His eyes have not the hardened stare of the vicious criminal, and there is little trace of brutal feeling about his mouth. He weared year, and vesterday. Most mouth. He seemed very sad yesterday. Most of the time his head was resting upon his hand, and only when some strong point was made did he look up.

Gray Evans, a colored man, was the first witness introduced by the Commonwealth. He testified that on the evening when the killing occurred he was standing at one of the rear windows of his house, which overlooked the scene of death. He saw Jones come out of a small building in the rear of Lizzie's shanty on Union street, and heard the quarrel which ensued. Jones, it appeared, owed Lizzie thirty-five cents, which he refused to pay. Bad words passed between them, and then the witness saw the prisoner strike the girl with his fist. She ran from him into her house. He pursued her. from him into her house. He pursued her, and, seizing a lighted lamp which was standon a table, threw it at her with the fatal result that is now a matter of record.

Dr. Dew, the surgeon who took the girl to the almshouse in the city ambulance shortly aiterwards, testined that he took her to the almshouse, where she died the following afalmshouse, where she died the following al-ternoon from the effects of the burning. On the way the wounded girl made to him a dying declaration which corroborated Evans' testimony in every particular. "It's God's truth, Doctor," she said, "I tell it because I am about die."

EDWARD JONES' STORY.

The prisoner was placed on the stand and testified in his own behalf, giving his version of the story. He claimed that he attempted to take the lamp away from her and that the explosion of the lamp and the burning was purely accidental. He denied that Evans' purely accidental. He denied that Evans' story of the affair was true.

Counsel for the defense then introduced Messrs. Langhorne Putney, Bennet and S. B. Nelson (the latter Jones' employer), who testified that Jones was a steady, reliable man and of excellent character.

The Commonwealth then recalled Gray Evans, who rebutted the prisoner's testimony—especially that part of it in which the defense endeavored to prove that Evans could not have seen the killing from the window where he stood.

dow where he stood.

At this point the jury was taken down to the scene of the murder and examined it carefully. It was plain to them that Evans was in a position where he could see everything that occurred in Lizzie Holmes' back yard. ABOUMENT BY BOTH SIDES.

5:30 when Commonwealth's-Attorney H. M. Smith. Jr., opened the case for the Commonwealth, and forty-five minutes later when Mr. Page addressed the jury on behalf of the prisoner.
At 7:08, after the Commonwealth had summed up the evidence, the jury was sent

The minutes went by until 7:20, when the The minutes went by until 1:20, when the jury filed into court and were tallied off.
"Edward Jones, stand up," said the clerk, and then the prisoner looked into the faces of the jury, and heard them pronounce him guilty of murder in the second degree.

The verdict was thirteen years in the State penitentiary. After the verdict had been announced Mr.

Page moved that the verdict be set aside as contrary to the law and evidence.

Judge Witt announced that he would postpone sentence until to-day, and would then fix a day agreeable to both attorneys when the motion to set aside the verdict might be argued lones was taken back to jail, where he is passing the weary hours to-day.

THE EIGHTH-STREET TUNNEL.

A Times Reporter Talked With the President of the Company.

Mr. N. E. Reed, president of the Richmond and Chesapeake Railroad Company, whose headquarters are at 205 Broadway, New York, has been in the city several days conferring has been in the city several days conterring with the Council committees in regard to a continuation of the Eighth-street tunnel franchise. He is stopping at Murphy's Hotel, and was seen there by a Times reporter last evening. Mr. Reed expressed himself as being hopeful of favorable action on the part of the city in extending the franchise of his company so as to give them time to construct the tunnel.

He said he fully realized the fact that the success of the entire scheme depended on the extension of this franchise by the city, and said with the time for building the tunnel extended they would have no trouble in raising all the funds necessary to carry out the entire plans of the company.

Mr. Reed said that they were dependent on the patronage of Richmond for success, and they did not desire to adopt any policy an-tagonistic to the interest of the city and that they could not afford to do so.

Mr. Reed has also thoroughly investigated the tunnel cave in and says that he is satisfied that a defective sewer in Eighth street was the chief cause of the tunnel giving away, as the sewer since the tunnel has been repaired discharges twice the amount of water that it did before. He says the company have ample means to prosecute the necessary work in connection with repairing the tunnel and that favorable negotiations have been pending for some time in London for placing four and a half million dellars in the bonds of the company and that with favorable action on the part of the city there will be no trouble in closing the sale. A representative of the company who has been negotiating this loan was to leave New York on the City of Paris to-day to close the sale, anticipating a favorable action on the part of the city by the time of his arrival in England.

Colonel E. J. Brooks, of New York, the contractor for the tunnel, was also seen. He says the tunnel, if it had been kept dry, would never have given away, but that the percola-tions from defective drainage of the street kept the tunnel wet, and that the timbers, kept the tunnel wet, and that the timbers, which were largely composed of second growth pine, rotted away. Mr. Brooks says that the repairs necessary to secure the tunnel from any turther damage were completed yesterday, but in order to make it more abundantly secure, he will trestle its whole length with much heavier timbers than are ever used in such tunnels. The contractor says that the specifications under which the tunnel is to be built provide that it shall be equal to any on the Pennsylvania Central equal to any on the Pennsylvania Central railroad and that it will, if completed, be one of the most substantial pieces of work in the

Mr. Reed will return to New York this afternoon.

The Council To-Night.

The Council will meet in called session to-night to decide where the crematory shall be located. The Board of Aldermen will as-semble at 7 o'clock and the Common Council one hour later. It is very important that this matter should be settled at once, as the expense of the delay is upon the city.

JUSTICE JOHN'S COURT.

The Docket Was Small, (But, the Dispenser of Equity Put in Good Work.

It may be owing to the promptness with which Justice John punishes offenders, or to the fear which has grown into a certainty of sure capture by the efficient police, or it may even be a desire to avoid the usual invective of the renowned orator Giles Jackson, but one thing is sure, that the docket in the Police Court is rapidly growing smaller day by day.

Crime seems to be playing out entirely.
Only three cases yesterday, and two of them discharged. This is a record on which the city should be congratulated.

Depel Manico, who looked as if he had just arrived from the sunny shores of Italy or the vine-clad hills of Sicily, had tapped the flowing bowl too frequently, and was charged with being drunk. It took the combined efforts of the court officers to inifiate him into the mysteries of "kissing the book," and when asked if guilty, he simply pulled 75 cents out of his pocket and simply pulled 75 cents out of his pocket and tendered it as his fine. Sergeant Thomas wrote $3.20 on a piece of paper and handed it to him. Then followed a stream of "beautito him. Then followed a stream of "beautiful language." His teeth were clinched and an occasional spark flew out like the quick flash from beneath the electric cars. No one understood a word he said, but when he had rattled off $3.20 worth he remitted to the sergeant and left the room.

Charles Robinson was charged with stealing an umbrella from Cicero Lomax. The evidence looked very bad for Charles, but, of course, no precedent could be set in a matter course, no precedent could be set in a matter of this sort. It would never do to consider it stealing just to take a man's umbrella. Any little trick like this, and one so generally practiced, should never be pronounced as criminal, and so the case was dismissed, and dozens of men will continue to go on day after day closely scanning the private property of every man who has a sunshade, vainly hoping to get a glimpse of a long-lost umbrella.

Theo, Jennings was charged with selling

Theo. Jennings was charged with selling liquor on Sunday, but the witnesses either did not buy any or were too exuberant to recollect it yesterday, and so the case was dismissed.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

The Guests Who Were Registered in Richmond Yesterday.

American Hotel .- S. R. Williams, Charleston, W. Va.; J. H. Hall, Reanoke, Va.; J. H. Womack, Nashville, Tenn.; W. D. Renynerd, Pen Hooke, Va.; J. M. Capelin, Nashville, Tenn.; James T. Garron, Warwick Courthouse, Va.; J. B. Richardson, Providence Forge, Va.; George T. Garrett and wife, Laura Smith, Harrall Garrett, West Point, Va.; C. T. Goodwyn, Nottoway Courthouse, Va.; W. N. Turner, Lynchburg, Va.; J. Rafter, Baltimore, C. Oscar Beasley, Charles H. Edmunds, Philadelphia, Pa.; Thomas M. Skelleg, Charles Benham, Louisville, Ky.; George A. Trent, Lynchburg, Va.; D. C. Anderson, E. R. Johnson, Columbia, Va.; W. J. Ganvey and son, Charleston, S. C.; B. R. Franklia, Philadelphia, Pa.; J. H. Martin, Palimyson, Va.; S. F. White: Hampton, Va.; E. G. Myers, District of Columbia. Womack, Nashville, Tenn.; W. D. Renynerd,

E. G. Myers, District of Columbia.

Bavis House.—E. D. Talley, New York: C. W. Burnes, Baltimore, Md.; Charles Jacobs, New York: E. M. Umack, Trenton, N. J.: Stephen Foss, Brooklyn, N. Y.: C. D. Rinard, Philadelphia, Pa.: David Burkweiler, Howard Fairbrother, George W. Williams, M. Eckstein, N. Kaiser, New York: M. R. Huckey, Baltimore, Md.: J. H. Blanton, Chicago, Ill.; George R. Leonard, Boston, Mass.: N. Marcus, E. J. Owen, New York: E. Shaffer, Philadelphia, Pa.: A. Jawbson, Chicago, Ill.; Joseph Weil, Baltimore, Md.: L. H. Rosenheim, E. M. Weinberg, New York: H. H. Parham, Oil City, Pa.: John W. Roberts, Akron, O.; F. Byrnes Ivey, New York: M. A.

Akron, O.; F. Byrnes Ivey, New York,

Morphy's,—H. E. Reed, New York; M. A.
Pyne, Petersburg, Va.; Max Nusbaum, Baltimore, Md.; F. T. Anderson, Howardsville
Va.; R. S. Jordan, Louisa, Va.; J. H. Saunders, Danville Military Institute, Mr. Bond,
Baltimore, Md.; A. L. Childress, Norfolk, Va.;
P. L. McCarthy, Baltimore, Md.; Alf. Georg, Switzeriand, T. Ashby Wiekham, Henrico county, Va.; G. H. Hartshorn, Boston, Mass.;
C. E. Shipp, Chattanooga, Tenn.; N. Curriel,
H. A. Wilcox, New York, A. M. Tubman,
Washington, D. C.; O. F. Martin, Louisville, Ky.; Paul J. Parsons, Philadelphia, Pa.; John D. Doyle, G. C. Guvenator, Atlantic City, T.
F. Anderson, New York; Colonel B. H. Mercer, Philadelphia, Pa.; C. A. McCourt, Virginia; C. F. Spinney, York, Pa.

Ezchange and Ballavd,—Mr. and Mrs. J. D.

Exchange and Ballerd.—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Church, Charlotte, N. C.; J. H. Rodes, Nashville, Tenn.; George E. Fisher, Henry E. Rnox, New York: S. A. Willis, Galveston, Tex.; Mrs. Willis Miss Young, Roseneath; C. D. Smith, Miss Maggie C. Smith, Richmond; Miss Julia Massie, University of Virginia; W. H. C. Noble, Boston; J. N. Stubbs, Gloucester, Va.; S. N. Chamberlain, Baltimore; J. T. Follard, Boston; W. T. Saunders, Alabama; M. M. Chandler, Lexington, Ky.; Lincoln, Right. M. Chandler, Lexington, Ky.; Lincoln Right-er, New York; M. P. Lind, Philadelphia, Frank C. Hairston, North Cacolina; John P., Mogher, Philadelphia; William Tileston, A. H. Dawson, New York, T. H. Hubbell, Balti-more, John R. Edwards, Lynchiurg; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Newman, R. W. Bostleman, New York

Ford's Hotel,—George B. Abell, Philadelphia, Pa.; W. A. Meits, Columbia, S. C.; Miss M. M. Brown, Charleston, S. C.; L. H. Johnson, Baltimore; F. C. Seelhoff, Chicago; Max Newman, New York; G. F. Petson and wife, Baltimore; George E. Bush, Warwick county, Va.; Mrs. F. Bigelow, T. B. Galer, Chicago; Mrs. M. P. Burke and son, Miss Mamie B. Sale, Miss Katie Thurman, Bedford City; S. R. Johnson, Boston; Lamar Hollyday, Old Sale, Miss Katie Thurman, Bedford City, S. R. Johnson, Boston, Lamar Hollyday, Oid Point, William Baxter, Jr., Baltimore, C. B. Hawkins, Worcester, Mass., F. C. Gunford, I.ynn, Mass., J. F. Felder, Medford, Mass., T. T. Tichenor, Atlanta, Ga.; John G. Cramer, Mrs. R. B. Metcalfe, Miss Maude Metcalfe, Miss Etta Sallee, Lexington, Ky.: Miss Edina Sallee, Miss Laura Berry, P. L. Sloan, Lexington Ky.: E. V. Adams, Charlotte county, Va.; E. Block, New York, James C. Green, C. C. Price, Rocky Mount, Va. W. A. Dew, Huntington, W. Va.; B. James C. Green, C. C. Price, Rocky Mount, Va.; W. A. Dew, Huntington, W. Va.; B. Smith, Hinton, W. Va.; J. B. Bently, Mays-ville, Ky.; Charles A. Mouroe, Loudoun county, Va.; A. D. Savage, New York; H. P. Booker and wife, Mrs. M. A. Chrisman, E. A. Semple and son, E. K. Peek, Hampton, Va.; E. Knotts, Portsmouth, Va.; Segar Whiting, Hampton, Va.; J. M. Amwig, Jr., Philadel-phia, J. H. Hodgson, Jersey City, N. J.

MARRIED IN WASHINGTON.

Mr. Buchanan Schley, Jr., and Miss Lettie Robertson_Other Couples.

Among the crowd of excursionists who were married in Washington Tuesday was at least one couple which is prominent in the social circles of Virginia and Maryland.

The contracting parties were Buchanan Schley, Jr., son of Buchanan Schley, Esq., of Hagerstown, Md., and grandson of the late Commodore Schley, and Miss Lettie Robert-son, daughter of Judge William J. Robertson, of Charlottesville. Va. Young Schley has been during the past two years a student in the academic department of the University of Virginia, and while there attained considerable prominence in college affairs, playing on the base-ball team of 'sa '30, and captaining the University's phe-nomenally successful ball team of the past year. He was also a member of some of the most prominent social organizations in col-Miss Robertson, who is a handsome and charming brunette, was one of the most popular of the University belles. Witty, graceful and gracious, her many attractive qualities of head and heart won for her the devoted ad-miration of no small number of the favored coterie who had the entree to her father's hospitable home, and many a regretful suitor will envy the fortunate holder of the winning hand in this game of hearts. Among the Richmonders and Virginia pec Among the Richmonders and Virginia people generally who were married in Washington Tuesday were: J. T. O'Brien and Miss Mabel Jones, Charles E. Kain and Laura

D. Brown, Joseph L. Lowry and Elizabeth
Virginia Wilkins, all of Richmond; William E. Vance and Viola Clopton, of Manchester, Va.: Francis J. Hill and Annie M. Goode, of Richmond; James E. Atkinson and Belle D.
Chinault, of Caroline county, and John W.
Norris and Florence Lucas, of Richmond.

Officers Installed.

Officers Installed.

Deputy Great Sachem L. W. Guyer visited Monataka, No. 83, L. O. R. M., last evening, and installed the following officers; Sachem, T. W. Mitcheil: Seni r Sagamore, W. L. Hardwick; Junior Sagamore, W. O. Mallory: Prophet, J. J. Davis; Chief of Records, Thomas Sheppard; Guard of Wigwam, J. J. Guyer. After the installation refreshments were served to their invited guests, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

LILLIAN MADISON'S SISTER.

She Died Tuesday at the Home of Her · Parents in Richmond.

THE CLUVERIUS CASE IS RECALLED

In the Nineteenth Year of Her Age She Died-She Was a Consistent Member of the Baptist Church-Other Funerals.

Miss Lulu J. Madison, the third daughter of

C. J. and Lucy T. Madison, died on Tuesday at the residence of her parents, No. 2119 east Marshall street. The deceased is a sister of Fannie Lillian Madison, who on the night of March 12th, 1885, was foully murdered by her cousin, T. J. Cluverius, and whose body was discovered on the following morning in the reservoir. The story of this horrible murder, for which Cluverius was convicted and hanged, is still fresh in the minds of the citizens of Richmond. The great shock of the tragedy, with all its attendant horrors, the long trial and its subsequent harrowing consequences, all proved a strain upon the parents which even years has lessened but little, and now in this sud-den and additional bereavement they are wellnigh overwhelmed.

MOVED TO RICHMOND.

Mr. Madison, with his family, at the time of the commission of the crime above mentioned, was living in King William county, but the charm of their quiet home was gone. There was no scene about the pleasant farm that did not hourly bring to mind some memories of a saddened past that crowded their lives with sorrow, and tinged their daily walk with sadness that was unbearable.

ness that was unbearable.

There was but one thing left to do and that was to seek new scenes and surroundings and endeavor to bury in the busy activity of a citr life the recollections that embittered their lives. They came to this city and located in their present home on Church Hill,

ONLY MINETEEN. The deceased was in her nineteenth year and was a much-loved member of Venable-street Bantist church and also an earnest partici-pant in the Sabbath-school work. She was extremely popular with her youthful compan-ions and friends, all of whom learned of her death with genuine regret.

A large number of friends gathered at the home of the afflicted parents yesterday, and with loving hands ministered to their needs and with tender words of deepest sympathy ought to relieve the burdens laid upon them. The funeral will take place this morning at 10 o'clock from the Venable-street Baptist church, and in the absence of the pastor, Dr. Pitt, the Rev. J. T. Tucker will conduct the

The interment will be made in Oakwood

Bandolph Bolling.

The steamship Werra, of the North German Lloyd line, is due in New York at 7 o'clock to morrow morning. The remains of the late Randolph Bolling are coming on this steamer and will in all probability reach this city on Saturday morning.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been fully effected, but due notice of them

The great popularity of Mr. Bolling will draw out a large number of his old friends, who will saily attend the remains to their final resting place in Hollywood.

A NEW BREWERY To be Erected at Blenner's Park on the Site of the Old Euker Brewery. Mr. P. J. Parsons, of the firm of J. D. Parsons & Sons, architects, of Philadelphia, is in the city for the purpose of superintending a new brewery building to be erected for the Richmond Brewery Company on the site of he old Euker brewery at Blenner's Park, and the work of tearing away the front and other parts of the old building will commence at

The contracts for the work are given to Richmond builders, and the grain used in the brewery will be purchased from farmers in this vicinity. The capacity of this brewery will be about 55,000 barrels per annum. John D. Doyle, of Atlantic City: Ernest Meyer, now brewmaster of the celebrated Peter Schem brewery, of Philadelphia, and

George C. Guvernator, a well-known Rich mond citizen, are the proprietors, and will represented in the trade by Robert Hill, Jr. it is expected this brewery will be ready for perations early in the fall. The new brewery operations early in the fall. The new brewery just completed near the Richmond and Fredericksburg railroad shops has commenced

HON, JOHNE, MASSEY.

He Has Been in Canada and is Expected

Home in a Few Days. The Superintendent of Public Instruction. Hon. John E. Massey, is expected home in a few days, after attending the National Education Convention at Toronto, Can. Mr. Massey, after the adjournment of the convention, visited Boston, where he had some private business to attend to. He made the response to the address of welcome delivered to the members of the convention. The attendance there of representatives from the South was not as large as was expected. Mr. Massey and his wife were quartered at the Queen's Hotel.

Back From the Unveiling. Many of the veterans and other visitors returned vesterday from Lexington, though many will be there for a day or two still. All of them unite in praising the people of the little mountain city, whose hospitality was without limit.

All of the visitors praise the Chesapeake and Ohio officials for the excellent traffic facilities afforded. There was ample track room and plenty of cars with efficient crews in charge. General G. W. Custis Lee held open house in Lexington Tuesday night and received many of the thousands of strangers. Miss Hampton, Wade Hampton's daughter, and Miss Lucy Lee Hill, daughter of General A. P. Hill, were central figures of the reception.

In the Courts.

Chancery Court-Judge Barton, sitting for Judge Leake, heard argument in the case of Devore against Jameson and others. The case was argued by Mr. Beverly T. Crump, and continued until to-day, when argument will be resumed. Judge Barton appointed Sheriff D. S. Cates curator of the estate of Lucena H. Bacon,

City Circuit Court. - Suit was instituted yesterday by M. A. V. Powers, by, &c., against W. E. Nuchols. Case for $447.42. Hustings Court.—The case of Miss Lelia Braxton, charged with keeping a disorderly boarding house at the corner of Ninth and Clay streets, was continued to the September

The Ball Game, The Columbia Athletics and the Richmond

The Columbia Athletics and the Richmond club will play at Island Fark to-day and to-morrow at 4:30 P. M. each day. The Washington club is said to be an excellent one, and the Richmond club has been greatly strengthened. Among the players are Luck, Left-wich, Glenn, Quarles, Cain, Morgan, Foster and Enright. The Ambulance.

The ambulance was called yesterday to attend a white man who had fractured his leg at Davenport & Morris' at 2:20 P. M. yesterday.

It was found that a bone had been broken and the man was taken to his home, No. 1707

Accommodation street.

Representatives of the City Rallway Company and the Street Committee Conferred. Last evening at 8 o'clock the sub-committee from the Street Committee held an informal conference with representatives of the Richmond City Railway Company in the City Engineer's office.

The original intention of the sub-committee was to hold a regular meeting to pass on an ordinance allowing the street railway company to run extension tracks down Twenty-first street from Franklin to Main, and up Ninth street from Main to Bank. The establishment of these tracks would enable the company to do away with the Bank and lower Franklin street route, and run all of their electric cars over that part of Main street between Ninth and Twenty-first.

Owing to the fact that but three of the committee were present, nothing more than mond City Railway Company in the City Encommittee were present, nothing more than an informal conference was held. Mr. Wyndham R. Meredith, attorney for the railway company, was present and conversed with Colonel Cutshaw, Mr. Cocke (Acting City Attorney) and the committee on Acting City Attorney) and the committee of the matter in question.

STREET-CAR TALK.

As the Council will have a meeting next Tuesday, the 28th, the committee decided to meet on that day at 6 o'clock—an hour and a half before the Street Committee meeting—and pass upon the proposed ordinance. At that date the full committee will probably be present and setting may be taken. present and action may be taken.

John R.Childs, a colored aspirant for politi-cal honors and Government employment, several months ago stood the civil service examination and was appointed a substitute let-ter-carrier. He was assigned to duty Mon-day, and after trudging over the Richmond streets for three days he became convinced that the position was no sinecure, and yesterday offered his resignation.

DEATHS.

MADISON.—Died, at her parents' residence, No. 2119 east Marshall street, Tuesday, July 21, 1891, at 3:30 o'clock, LULU J.—MADISON, third daughter of C. J. and Lucy T. Madison, in the nineteenth year of her age.

"The rose that sweetest doth awake Will soonest go to rest." The funeral will take place at Venable-Street Baptist church TO-DAY (Thursday), July 23d. at 10 o'clock A. M. Friends and acquaintances invited to attend.

West Point (Va.) papers please copy.

West Foint (Va.) papers please copy.

MONCURE.—Died. at lAfton. July 21st, BLANCHE EMID, infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James D. Moneure; aged eleven months,
STECKER.—Died, Wednesday morning, July 22, 1891, at thirty-five minutes past 3 o clock, after a long and painful illness, Mrs. MARTHA STECKER, beloved wife of P. G. A. Stecker.
Funeral will take place from St. Mark's church TO-DAY (Thursday), July 23d, at 3 o'clock.

VORBRINK.—Died, July 21, 1891, at 7:25 o'clock, after a long and painful illness, at the residence of his parents. No. 900 Catherine street, little JOSEPH GREGORY, only child of George T, and Mollie Vororink; aged eight months and two weeks.

WEATHER FORECAST. Washington, D. C., July 22.—For Virginia and North Carolina: Showers; stationary tempera-ture; slightly warmer in extreme western por-tion; easterly winds.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE. MINIATURE ALMANAC, JULY 23, 1891.

PORT OF WEST POINT, JULY 22, 1891.

ARRIVED. Steamship Baltimore, Baltimore, merchandise and passengers. SAILED.

Steamship Baltimore, Baltimore, merchandise

PORT OF LAMBERT'S POINT, JULY 22, 1891. ARRIVED. Schooner F. Randall.

Barge Antelope, Hoboken; schooner F. Randall, New Haven. Miller & Rhoads.

JULY, 23D. STORE NEWS

CLEARANCE.

To-day's Bargains are a "brush up" of the "leavings" in certain departments; some as good as new, others soiled, but being of the washable character, will come out of the laundry as fresh as they came to us.

Extra preparations are being made to show some very Important Bargains to follow in the wake of this announcement. Perhaps you've a window or two that needs recurtaining: if so, here's a once-in-a-year chance. Before the new curtains come in the odd lots must go out. Just twenty-five lots of Odd Lace Curtains one, two, three and four of a kind-ranging in price from 58c, to $6 a window, and on

--:0:---A Lot of 20c, and 25c, Lace Shams, Splashers and Tidies Go Down to 10c.; the

25c. Germicide, Skin Cure, Toilet Scap Goes to 10c. a Cake.

Seamless, Washable Dress Shields to 5c.

Cause, Slightly Shop Worn.

A Box of Bailey's Fine Swansdown and a Bottle of Good Perfume for 10c. Infants' 50c. Muslin Caps for 20c. One Lot Odd Dinner Napkins $1.19 Per Dozen, from $1.50. 50c. Colored Spun Silk Gloves for Half, 25c. 20c. Solid Leather Perforated Belts for 12 1-2c. Men's $2 Pongee Shirts for $1. Men's 75c, Canvas Cheviot Shirts for 50c. Boys' 50c. Percale Shirt-Waists for 25c. One Lot $1.50 Silk Umbrellas for $1.25. One Lot of $2 Silk Umbrellas for $1.50

--:0:---Miller & Rhoads.

LAUNDRY. NEW YORK LAUNDRY WORKS.

PRICES FOR 1891: Shirts, 10 cents each; Cuffs, 2 cents each; Collars, 2 cents each. Clothes called for and delivered free of charge. Telephone, 541.

SUPPLY COMPANY. Shirts of all kinds 10c. each; Cuffs 2c. each; Col-

TIRGINIA STEAM LAUNDRY AND TOILET

ars 20. each. Toilet outfits with clean towels daily $1 per month. Telephone, 941. Works, 1207 west Main street.

Office. 836 east Main street.

every pair one-third to one-half the regular price has been chopped off.